Products

Polyester PD Microfiber Fabric Manufacturers

PD Microfiber Fabric is a type of high-quality synthetic fabric that is commonly used in the production of clothing, bedding. It is made from polyester and nylon fibers that are woven together to create a soft, durable, and lightweight material. The term "PD" stands for "peach skin finish," which refers to the texture of the fabric.

Soft pink microfiber fabric

One of the main advantages of PD microfiber fabric is its ability to wick away moisture and dry quickly, making it a popular choice for activewear, towels, and bedding. It is also resistant to wrinkles, shrinkage, and fading, which makes it easy to care for and maintain. Additionally, PD microfiber fabric is known for its softness and smoothness, giving it a luxurious feel.
